NEW INTERNET RADIO STATION STREAMS RECOVERY MUSIC 24/7
12StepRadio.com Caters to Recovery Community with New Music Genre

(San Diego, CA) — On April 17, 2004, at 4:49 pm, 12StepRadio.com was launched as the original, all music, fully-licensed Internet radio station devoted to playing recovery music 24/7. 12StepRadio.com was created as a public service and its mission is "Carrying the 12 Step Message With Music." The music played is a mixture of rock, folk, country, and Americana. The main idea is that the message has something to do with "what it was like, what happened, and what it's like now" for people in recovery.

The station's website at <http://www.12stepradio.com> includes instructions for songwriters and artists to submit their music for airplay. New music will be added to its playlist every month. The website also offers links to many of the CDs containing songs played on 12StepRadio.com, providing an additional opportunity for exposure of artists who have recorded recovery-related music. Wherever possible, links go directly to the artist's own site.

By subscribing to 12StepRadio.com's newsletter, listeners can become part of the community for recovery music created by 12StepRadio.com and receive a monthly email with updates about new music additions, new CDs containing recovery music, and information about special live concert broadcasts.

12StepRadio.com is expanding its links page to connect listeners with other recovery community websites. To exchange reciprocal links, email BillZ@12stepradio.com with your website's URL and a 2-3 line description of what your site offers.
